

DUAL PULLEY

ITEM CODE: CCR-M

The solid and imposing structure of the CCR-M, DUAL PULLEY MASTER, supports the great flexibility of use of a machine that was created to combine durability and immediacy of use for users of any order and level, in the execution of varied and intense workouts. The angular design allows positioning even in dimensionally limited environments, creating space where a different solution would take it away. Thanks to the two independent 90 Kg columns, it is possible to perform isolated exercises, as in the best functional training protocols, or to allow 2 users to use the machine at the same time, suitably orienting the pivoting pulleys, which are fully adjustable in height. of selection, by means of a constrained pin, offers the best possibility of exploiting the 18 5 Kg stacks. The wide casing and the pulleys protected by shells make CCR-M suitable for use both in commercial and educational environments, assisted and supervised, and in hotel settings, without the need for further precautions.
